ABOUT ME

I am a passionate film production professional with a Master's degree in Film Production from the University of North Carolina Wilmington. As a Wilmington local, I am dedicated to the growth and success of our film community. With hands-on experience across various production roles, I bring both technical skills and creative problem-solving abilities to each project.

Outside of work, I enjoy bike rides, vacationing with my wife and playing DnD with my friends. My goal is to contribute to a dynamic team, supporting high-quality film projects in an environment that values innovation, professionalism, and continuous growth.
